FIA European Historic Rally Championship 2026.

Note: This document has no regulatory value and is for guidance only.

Championship Update | Date: November 24, 2026.

Clarification: Tied Championship Points – Gravel Championship.

Following a request from competitors, the FIA clarifies the following, based on the interpretation of the 2026 Sporting Regulations - FIA EHRC Gravel.

In the event that competitors end the season on tied championship points in a class, category or specialist trophy, the following sequence will apply, based on their three best scores achieved across the championship season.

The sequence taken to declare the winner will be:

- First, calculate and compare the FIA EHRC Gravel Championship points obtained from each Driver's three best results over the season.

- If those points totals are equal, then compare their next-best dropped scores and, if necessary, the subsequent next dropped score (where this applies.)

- If the tie still remains at this point, the FIA will then apply Article 8.1.1, comparing finishing positions only in the rallies retained for the original three-result Championship points total.

- If necessary and it is still not possible to split the competitors, the FIA will proceed to Articles 8.1.2 first, and 8.1.3 as the final measure.

FIA European Historic Rally Championship 2026
Prepared by the FIA Historic Department on 24.11.2026.
historic@fia.com