NATIONAL & LOCAL INFORMATION

ABOUT HUNGARY

LOCATION, GEOGRAPHY

Hungary is a landlocked country, located in East-Central Europe and occupying an area of 93,030km². The country's population is less than 10 million including several minorities. The capital city is Budapest with almost two million inhabitants. The Hungarian terrain is mostly flat to rolling plains with hills and low mountains on the northern border. Hungary's renowned Lake Balaton is the largest lake in Europe. The country is criss-crossed by mighty rivers (Danube, Tisza) which divide and define its regions: Transdanubia (to the west of the Danube), the plain between the Rivers Danube and Tisza, and the Trans-Tisza region (to the east of the Tisza).

ABOUT NYIRÁD

Nyirád is a small village located in the central part of Transdanubia, at the northern side of Lake Balaton. It is surrounded by the towns of Ajka, Tapolca, Devecser and Sümeg approx. 15km away. The village is approx. 61km², the population is less than 2,000. Nyirád is actually an old mining area where aluminium ore (bauxite) was mined for years. Due to bauxite, the colour of the soil in the area has a distinctive red hue.

CLIMATE

Hungary has a temperate seasonal climate with generally warm summers with low overall humidity levels but frequent rain showers and cold snowy winters. The average temperatures range from -4 °C in January to 26 °C in July. The country is protected from extreme weather conditions by the surrounding mountain ranges, the Alps and the Carpathians.

TIME ZONE

Hungary is in the Central European Time Zone (CET), which is one hour ahead of Greenwich Mean Time (GMT+1). The country uses the practice of daylight-saving time, advancing clocks by one hour during the period from the last weekend in March to the last weekend of October.
