

Radio Position Sign Placement

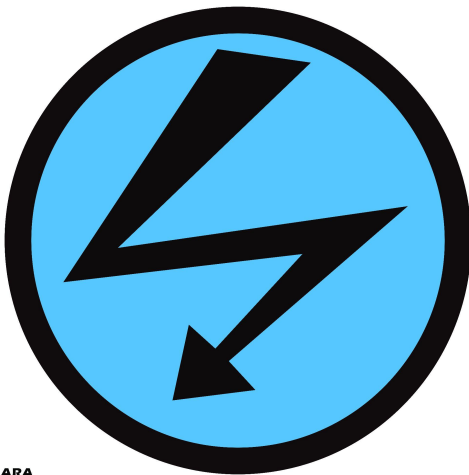

Radio positions that are listed in the route book will each have two signs displayed on the course to indicate to competitors locations that they can stop to relay information in the case of an emergency.

- Yellow warning radio sign: This sign will be placed 100 yards before the radio position on the same side of the road as the radio sign. It is important that the sign is visible for the competitors as they drive down the stage and alerts them that a radio position is coming up. You should look for a stake in the ground painted yellow that you can affix the sign to.
