

Burnside Piling Scottish Tarmac Rally Championship Mach 1 Stages 2024 update 7.5.2024

MSUK have now approved routes for the 2024 Mach 1 stages both Junior and Senior rallies, together with the previously issued permit and permissions from MACC and Highlands and Islands Airports we are good to go.

This now means all the paperwork can start being finalised and the regulations are now published on the web site.

There is still a lot of work to be done by the team before the event and more updates will follow as and when we have them, a reminder below of the programme of events on the run up to the Rally.

We currently have nearly 90 registered competitors and are expecting more at the next round of the championship the Jim Clark Rally in Duns on the 26th May

The STRC team will be at scrutineering on the Saturday to assist with any queries or indeed anybody requiring additional sponsors decals please go and see the team who will be more than happy to assist.

Mach 1 Stages 2024 update 28.4. 2024

The Team at Mach 1 have been working behind the scenes again to bring you another cracking event in 2024 with the last planning meeting being Tuesday of this week, below is brief outline of where we are to date and also the proposals for regulations and entries opening.

We currently have nearly 90 registered competitors and are expecting more at the next round of the championship the Jim Clark Rally in Duns on the 26th May

The team have visited the venue already and identified a few areas where routes can be tweaked from 2023 and have now been submitted to MSUK for approval.

The event permit has been issued for the event which is also good to be in receipt of so early.

Permission from both the landowner and Highlands and Islands Airports have been given the green light to utilise the proposed routes.

The question most commonly asked is can we camp on the base, unfortunately we cannot allow this due to the landowner's permission but there is a plentiful supply of local accommodation and campsites available locally, should you have issues with finding anywhere to stay please contact us and we will do what we can to assist.

Catering will be from Argyll bakeries and the location of this year's catering and the ever-popular Saturday evening carvery will be advised in due course. We have secured toilets and straw bales which are all on pre order as well as all relevant signage/stakes/tape and sponsors Banners.

Keep up to date with all the latest news and championship updates by visiting www.dunfermlinecarclub.co.uk Should you have any queries in any way please feel free to drop an email to strc@dunfermlinecarclub.co.uk and one of the team will come back you. DCC/STRC TEAM
