

FIA European Historic Rally Championship 2026.

Date: Friday 12th December 2025.

Official Championship Communication:

- Change of Date for Fafe Historic Rally from June to April 10/11
- Inclusion of Rallye Sanremo Storico as final round of EHR Pre-92.
- Sporting Regulations to publish and Registrations to open ASAP.

Dear Competitors and Teams,

We would like to make you aware of the following important changes (now validated by the FIA World Motorsport Council this week) ahead of the 2026 season for FIA EHRC.

Fafe Historic Rally DATE CHANGE / FIA EHRC GRAVEL CHAMPIONSHIP.

The event will now take place on Friday 10th / Saturday 11th of APRIL 2026. This event had a date conflict with another motorsport event in Portugal in June and the only option was to move to a new date in April. Critically, this now means that this rally will take place BEFORE the WRC event in the same region on the classic gravel roads around Fafe.

The final confirmed dates/championship calendar for FIA EHRC Gravel is:

Fafe Historic Rally	April 10/11
Historic Acropolis Rally	May 23/24
Lahti Historic Rally	August 20/22
East Sweden Historic Rally	August 28/29
Rally del Brunello Storico	November 27/28

It remains the three best scores from the five rallies for FIA EHRC Gravel Championship.

The championship will be open to all historic rally cars up to year 2000, with a clear class structure from Category 1-4 and then a class structure for Group A, Group N and WRC cars from 1993-2000. It will also include the new FIA Historic Gravel 2WD Trophy.

The FIA EHRC Gravel Championship will run on the events as one historic field, with competitors starting in expected performance order, with a single classification for results.

Championship points will be allocated for category and class performances from this final classification from each round. Full details will be published in the Regulations.

Rallye Sanremo Storico added to FIA EHRC Pre-92 Calendar.

Unfortunately, it was not possible for FIA EHRC to return to Asturias in 2026. The final round of the FIA EHRC Pre-92 Championship for cars in Categories 1-4 up to 1992 will now be Rallye Sanremo Storico on 16/17 October 2026.

To confirm, the final calendar for FIA EHRC Pre-1992 is as follows:

Rally Costa Brava	March 06/07
Costa Smeralda Rally	April 24/25
Rally Antibes Cote D'Azur Historic	May 14/17
Ardeca Ypres Historic Rally	June 25/27
Rallye Weiz Historic	July 16/18
Rali Ceredigion Historic	September 04/06
Rally Elba Storico	September 24/26
Rallye Sanremo Storico	October 16/17

This remains an all tarmac championship, with the best five scores to count for championship, category and class awards from the 8 rounds now available to competitors.

This championship is open for Cars in FIA Category 1-4, up to 31/12/1992.

FIA EHRC Pre-2000

There are no changes to the previously published FIA EHRC Pre-2000 Calendar.

Note: The championship calendars are being updated for publication on FIA social media currently.

Championship Registrations | Publication of Sporting Regulations

The FIA Historic Department expects to publish the Championship Sporting Regulations and open the FIA Registration platform for championship registrations prior to Christmas holidays.

We thank you for your patience and we are working hard to get entries ready and open for Rally Costa Brava as soon as possible.
