CLASSIFICATION OF CARS

For information purposes only and to give priority to participation in future editions, all participating cars will be classified with the following attributions and order of importance:

- Originals – all original cars, which participate with the same decoration as the one that made them famous at the time;
- SLO1 – all cars built according to the homologation form of the time, which participate with the same decoration as they intend to reproduce;
- Original B – all the original cars, which participate without the same decoration as the one that made them famous;
- SLO2 – all cars that are not built according to the homologation form of the time (namely with notable mechanical differences), but that participate with the same decoration as they intend to reproduce;
- SLO3 – all other cars that the Organizing Committee understands as eligible;

HISTORICAL DECORATIONS

- Since historic decoration is one of the factors that is most valued for eligibility in the RallySpirit Altice and in Slowly Sideways Europe competitions, a car WITH HISTORICAL DECORATION is defined as any car that displays the exact same decoration as the one intended to reproduce, with the exception of:
  - Window strips, which may be replaced by current advertising;
  - Door numbers and event plates, which may not be glued;
  - Small and punctual inclusions of current advertising in the remaining bodywork, which is understood not to harm the final image of the decoration that is reproduced.
