

RallySafe Finish Times

Due to a shortage of RallySafe tablets, they will not be available at the STOP controls on the stages. Therefore, the finish times written on the timecard will be the back-up, manual times captured at the flying finish. These times are intended as informational and to calculate transit times if a competitor is over lateness.

The RallySafe stage time will still be the official stage times and will display on the unit after you cross the flying finish. They can also be accessed on the RallySafe units by the competitor on transit. Instructions to access those times are below.

9. Transport Menu

In transport mode the unit has a menu that can be accessed by pressing the “Options” button. This allows you to view your stage times or send a manual hazard/SOS.

Stage Times-

From the options screen, you can press the stage times button. This gives you access to both transit and competitive stage times. You can select times for any completed stage with the next and previous buttons. It is not possible to view times when near a Time Control or a Stage Start.
