14 Maps of route (see notes e and k)

Provide one copy of the current Ordnance Survey quarter-inch sheets (Road Map series) showing the route of the event omitting any part of the route which is not on the public highway. Each sheet or set of sheets should show:

- (i) the location of any starting and finishing points;
- (ii) the times and dates when the first competitor is expected to leave any starting point and arrive at any finishing point (use the 24 hour clock for all times);
- (iii) the times and dates when the first competitor is expected to arrive at any point where the route enters or leaves a map;
- (iv) (with the letter "C") the location of any control point on the public highway (see note m) and of any other point on such highway at which the rules of the event require or are likely to cause competitors to stop for any purpose or to slow down for the purpose of solving a problem;
- (v) (with the letter "R") the location of each rest halt and also the length of time it is expected to be open;
- (vi) (with a cross "X") any point where the route leaves or rejoins the public highway and also the time at which the first competitor is expected to reach any such point. If the route leaves and rejoins the public highway at the same point, show both the time when the first competitor is expected to leave the public highway and the time when he is expected to rejoin it at that point;
- (vii) (with arrows marked "F" or "B") lengths of any public highway which are footpaths or bridleways forming part of the route;
- (viii) where the route traverses private property, or footpaths, bridleways or Roads used as Public Paths, these areas must be indicated on the map, and a signed declaration from the organiser that he has obtained permission from the owner, or the local highway authority, must accompany this form.
